

Katie Laustsen Ragle

Class of 2007

After Katie graduated from The Master's Academy, she moved to Ohio to attend Cedarville University. She graduated with honors from Cedarville in 2011 with her degree in electronic media (concentration in audio production and minors in editing and publishing, theatre, and Bible). Throughout college she was involved in SGA, the student newspaper, radio station, theatre, and was an RA. She stayed at Cedarville after graduation and worked as an admissions counselor, traveling around the country to represent Cedarville and to help prospective students throughout the college application process. With this job, she was able to come to The Master's Academy several times to represent Cedarville at school visits and college fairs. She has also had the pleasure to be the admissions counselor of a few TMA students who attended Cedarville.

This fall (2013) Katie is heading back to school to study physical therapy in order to pursue her passion for helping people and for athletics. Katie's goal is to work in a sports physical therapy clinic. She was married on June 15, 2013 and lives in Cedarville with her husband who is an ER nurse, a volunteer firefighter, and an EMT.

Katie shares, "The Master's Academy provided me a wide range of experiences that allowed me to confidently move far from home for college. I was 1,000 miles away from home right after high school, but I knew that I was fully prepared both spiritually and academically for the challenges ahead. Not a day goes by that I don't quote a Scripture passage that I learned throughout my years at TMA, even as far back as kindergarten. I will forever be grateful for The Master's Academy and the way it taught me to hide God's Word in my heart."
